Uchigumori

Patterned paper (sukimoyogami) with waves. Would be produced since the 11th century. Intended to calligraphy.A white sheet (usually a Torinoko paper) is covered in the mould with dyed fibers leaving cloudy patterns at the top and bottom of the sheet.

© Copyright Khartasia / C. Laroque — 31/10/2026